BULLS RUN AS A BATTLEFIELD.—The Camden Journal tells us of a pleasant little conversation which occurred between Col. Kershaw and Gen. Beaurogard, on the occasion of a visit to the camp. Talking about the probability of this point becoming famous in the history of the war, Col. K. remarked that the place should have a more classic name than Bulls Run, when Gen. B. promptly remarked that it is quite as good as Cowpens. This settled the question.
